Casee was full of life, loved many, and was well loved. She was determined cancer would not define her. She loved working alongside her husband in their construction business. Casee had an extensive talent of designing and visualizing people's dreams. She adored watching her boys rope, along with all the other kids, and their many adventures on the road. She enjoyed seeing and experiencing all of God's creation. She loved nature, sunsets, gardening, and cherished authentic conversations with friends. She encouraged her sons to get involved in many activities and enjoyed investing in other families' lives as well. She showed up. Most of all, she loved Jesus, her Lord and Savior. She was not ashamed of her faith. She instilled her love of scripture in her family. She was a bold example of Christ, standing in the gap for the people she loved. Casee celebrated people for their individuality and God-given talents. She was strong and courageous and desired for others to experience true freedom and abundance in Christ.

“ Sandra, I am so sorry. I saw her obit and the picture is beautiful. Looks just like you. I remember when we were both pregnant. I knew she and Cole were about a month apart. I remember keeping her once when y’all went somewhere. You didn’t leave your children very often so I felt trusted to get to keep her. I pray for comfort for you and your family!

“ I didn’t know her but did her family. Tommy & Sandra I’m so sorry for your loss—a parents worst nightmare. But then Tommy & Lee have experienced losing a daughter. Maybe they can help Sandra & fam. in their grief. Thinking of you.

“ I did not have the privilege to meet Casee in person, but she made a huge impact on my son's life when he attended one of Justin and Colby's roping schools. What might have been a brief encounter in time has translated to a forever handprint on his heart. Our condolences to Casee's family and friends and special prayers to Justin and the boys.

“ I am so sorry to hear of this. Casee was such a precious girl. I babysat for the Bailey kids when they were young. Casee was always so sweet and playful. She has had such a sweet smile. She was bright light even at young age. We will be praying for your family.
