“ I really can't believe I am writing this. My last text from her was January 13th, when she was comforting me about the death of my mom. She said the medication was making her sick. We FaceTimed on January 12th. I had no idea. We talked about our moms. She was hopeful about the new medication. She was the most supportive, positive, wonderful friend since high school. She was very supportive about my autistic grandson, and when he was younger she wanted to make sure that he had the handicapped stroller he needed. I am so sorry for the family. I know she is in heaven, breathing free, and we will see her soon. Love you 🙏❤️

“ Sharing our trials and victories. Our faith in an Amazing God we loved and served. Running the race to the end. Receiving our prize. I know her crown of victory has many jewels and she's in a grand mansion.

“ Our conversations about life. The trials and victories we shared. Knowing what an amazing God we loved and served. Running the race and receiving the prize at the end. I know her crown has many jewels and she’s in a grand mansion. Healed and free from her body’s pain.

“ My condolences for the loss of Cheryl. I’ve known Cheryl for many years. Our dad’s played music together in my dad’s band. We met Cheryl and Nelda at the events where the families could attend. Cheryl was the love and center of Ernie and Nelda’s life. I’m saddened by the loss and will keep her family in my prayers.

“ So sad to hear this. We grew up together playing, singing, dancing. One time Ernie let us get on stage and sing a song. My prayers are with the family and family of friends. Have always loved that girl.

“ To my beautiful sweet sister, Cherie:
You were the strongest and bravest person I have ever known. You were a fighter in a fight that would crumble most. Truly an inspiration, a beautiful and amazing soul.
As I write this, I am reflecting on a few things that really tug at my heart.
You lifted me up many times when I felt lost. I admired, so much, your faith and love for Jesus, and the love you so strongly carried for my brother and your boys.
I will miss the sound of your voice as you often greeted me with “hello sweet sister”. And topping my I love you with “ I love you more”.
Not very long ago as we talked about life and it’s ever changing pace, you said to me “Karen, take a breath and just say Jesus when you get too much.” You will never know how much weight that held for me. Here was my sister, who was given this huge unfair burden in life, this heavy cross to bear, so concerned for me and telling me how to lay my burdens down. This is the person you were. You never let the hand you were dealt get in the way of your unfailing love and strong faith in Jesus. That, my sister, is why I know you are free and dancing among the Angels now.
Our family will miss you deeply. We will meet again sweet sister. Until then, Rest In Peace. I love you so much. I will hold you in my heart always and forever. ❤️🙏 (Karen Luce Garner)

*I will love and miss seeing you my dear sweet friend...
You possessed one of the kindest hearts and sweetest of souls... What an inspiration you have been to so many for so long now...
Never to complain, only to share that sweet smile and speak of how thankful you were for the blessings in your life... May you rest now, you have done your works for the Lord through your loving spirit to all who knew you...
Heavenly hugs my friend.. Love you forever.*

“ *I went to school with my sister n law Cheryl .
Introduced my brother Ricky to her. There romance took off from there. It didn't take long for him to realize she was the one.
Cheryl was such a good listener and confidant. A good soul through and through. She always had a way of giving you peace through scripture. Her faith in our Lord was tremendous and kept her going through her journey . Cheryl never wavered. She loved her family with all her heart.
I will miss our sweet sister. Till we meet again my love 🌹🙏 ( Terry
