“ Loved working with Hutch!

My favorite experience was one time we were riding together doing some equipment removals and he had forgotten his phone and asked if he could use mine and I handed him my phone so he could call Paula.

The next day he angrily confronted me and asked me what I was doing calling his wife at which point I reminded him that he had used my phone, we both laughed when he realized he had borrowed my phone.

He also claimed that every time I showed up on a job he was on an electrical event would happen... snips fused and melted

“ Condolences to your family. I enjoyed working with Hutch and stopping over to visit after we had both retired. Hutch was always ready to help or answer any questions I might have while we were still working. I just wish I had stopped over to visit with him more often. He will be missed.

“ In July of 2002, after accepting a transfer from a desk job in San Antonio to the digital electronics crew in Round Rock, I walked into the crew room that first morning not knowing anyone and the whole room just got quiet as a church. The first guy that got up to walk over and introduce himself to me was Hutch! To this day, i still can't put into words how much of an impact that simple gesture had on me. Such a good hearted, honest, and hard working man.....if only he had better taste in the beer he drank! I'll see you again my friend! Mike Vordenbaum "Beetle".
