“ I met Jennifer and James about 12 years ago. We were all donating plasma at the same place. We quickly became friends and I introduced them to my wife. Of course Jennifer and my wife became immediate besties! James and Jen Jen( our little nickname for her) lived with us for about 8 years while James was still driving a truck and going to school. We all shared many of the same interest in shows, movies, amusement parks, and hobbies. She was our BB(Big Brother) go to girl! She absolutely loved that show and all it's drama! She would call Penny or video call every single day after they moved to Texas. She was more than a friend to us, she was family, and our lives were deeply touched by her, and our hearts are heavy with sadness at her passing. We also rejoice because we know she is sitting in Heaven with God and her "mystery" girl( her old grey tabby cat). She is at peace and is smiling down on all of us. We can't wait to see her again when we get there!
